

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, March 31

2000

Security puts new emphasis on parking regulations

Some employees have been parking in unauthorized places. Parking spaces at Marshall are identified by bumper blocks, markings on a curb or lines painted on the pavement. Parking is prohibited in any area not so marked or on grassed areas. Security officers are placing increased emphasis on enforcing parking regulations. For more information, call 544-4533.

Daylight Savings
Time starts Sunday.
Set clocks ahead
one hour

Order Earth Day
T-shirts on the Web at: <http://ntf-1.msfc.nasa.gov/earthday.nsf/order>

Civil servants, family get free access to Moonbuggy Race

Marshall civil servants, their spouses and children up to 21 living at home will receive free access to the Great Moonbuggy Race at the U.S. Space & Rocket Center April 7 and 8. Please enter the Space & Rocket Center through the Space Camp entrance which is just below the large Space Shuttle. Present your Marshall civil servant badge to the guard at the gate for entrance.

Parts management workshop to be held April 4-5

A workshop for parts management will be April 4-5 in Morris Auditorium and Bldg. 4203, room 1201. Call Sandra Haraway at 544-4264 or visit the Web at: <http://smaplab.ri.uah.edu/SFH>

Property accountability
starts with safety!